New York State Education Department Representative

Presenting on the P-20 movement.

LTC Consuelo Castillo Kickbusch U.S. Army, Retired, President & CEO, Founder of the Family Leadership Institute
She rose to senior officer rank in the US Army and became the highest ranking Hispanic woman in the combat support field. Although on track for general officer, Lt. Col. Kickbusch, a twenty year veteran, retired to found Educational Achievement Services. Consuelo concentrates on school reform issues. She is author of Journey to the Future, published in 2007.

Juliette Powell Freelance journalist and Author: 33 Million People in the Room

As the value of financial markets go down; the value of our relationships to navigate these uncertain times goes up. With a little help from your friends, your network has the ability to keep you connected to business and social opportunities that you would not be privy to otherwise. In a world where most people's financial capital is getting scarcer by the day, one cannot overemphasize the importance of building your social and cultural capital. She is the author of 33 Million People in the Room.

Mary P. Kinsella, Chair of the Educational Leadership Department at SUNY Cortland

Suzanne Gilmour, Executive Director NYSAWA, Chair of the Educational Administration Department at SUNY Oswego. They will be presenting the skills and strategies from their research on succeeding as a female superintendent featured in their book, Succeeding as a Female Superintendent; How to Get There and Stay There.
